Subject: Coconino Sensitive Insects

To: Cecelia Dargan

As requested the attached report describes what we were able to find out about distribution, habitats, and food sources for insects on the current Forest Service Sensitive species list. Dave Wallesz, a retired insect taxonomist, who is working for us this summer prepared this report after an extensive search of the internet, literature, local collections, and authorities. Unfortunately most of the location information he found was very general general in nature, by county; but where combined with host or habitat information I hope it will serve to be useful. If you have any questions about this letter or report feel free to give me a call at 556-2074.
